

Kiwis Help HA Break Jun Records

Jun was a record breaking month for Hawaiian Airlines, as it welcomed more than 1.04 million passengers, the highest Jun on record for the airline so far, and this was buoyed by strong demand from Kiwis, says HA.

"Jun was another great month for us with continuing strong demand from New Zealand," says Russell Williss, HA country director New Zealand.

"It reflects the value that Kiwis and our friends in the travel trade are placing on Hawaiian Airlines' product and service and the attraction of Hawaii as an incredible holiday destination," he says.

GO To Hawaii

GO Holidays has a four-night Waikiki package deal with flights on Hawaiian Airlines priced from $1299pp t/s for sale until 20 Jul. The deal includes HA economy class fares ex Auckland to HNL and accommodation in a superior room at the Aloha Surf Waikiki.

Package ex Wellington or Christchurch is priced from $1478pp t/s. Other hotel options are available. The offer is valid for select dates commenced and completed by 30 Nov. Blackouts apply. Refer to GO.

The month was positive all round for HA, with total traffic increasing 4.6%, capacity increasing 4.3% and load factor increased 0.2 points to 87.8%.

It's also proved to be a good Q2 for the airline; HA welcomed more than 3.01 million passengers, a record for the second quarter and an increase of 4.6% over the same period last year. Total traffic increased 5.7% and capacity was up 6%. However, load factor was down for the quarter to 86.3%, a drop of 0.3 points.
